三、閱讀測驗（共 4 題，每題 5 分）

Residents can avoid scoring an own goal during the World Cup by ensuring doors and windows are secured when leaving rooms unoccupied. The recent warm weather has meant many people have been leaving doors and windows open to air their homes, enjoy barbecues, host World Cup parties or spend time outdoors.

Chief Inspector Ged O'Connor said: "Burglars will seize any opportunity to enter a home through an open door or window.

"An example could be that people are at home watching the match in their front room, but they have left the back door and windows open.

"It only takes a few seconds for a thief to enter a house and snatch a purse, wallet or keys and they can be gone before the victim even realizes they have been burgled. It takes just as long to check that doors and windows are secured to deter a would-be burglar and have a little extra peace of mind.

21. What kind of job could Chief Inspector Ged O'Connor do?

- (a) a policeman
- (b) a technician
- (c) a judge
- (d) a builder

22. The word unoccupied means

- (a) unrepaired
- (b) damaged
- (c) empty
- (b) stolen

23. What could not be the suggestions about deterring a would-be burglar?

- (a) Ensure all ground floor windows are closed when going upstairs to bed.
- (b) It's OK to keep doors open if you are at home.
- (c) Use timer switches on lights when you are out to give the impression someone is at home.
- (d) Fit restrictors on floor windows so they can only be slightly opened.

24. What can be inferred from the above article?

- (a) Always be alert to the possibility of danger.
- (b) Even though burglars come, World Cup parties are still very common.
- (c) The recent warm weather causes many troubles to our daily life.
- (d) Fans are crazy about the World Cup that they forget to lock their doors.
